OEM Clutch Control Solenoid 23017845630

CAD $3,463.26

This OEM clutch control solenoid 23017845630 is responsible for clutch activation and sits on the lower hydraulic section. This valve controls clutch activation as well as sends pressure to the upper actuator block. The lower hydraulic section consists of 1 solenoid. If you are unsure what product you require, please contact us.

A faulty clutch solenoid valve will cause clutch control issues as well as issues related to pressure loss.

This valve is special order product from Germany, please allow 2-3 weeks for delivery.

Note: A mechanical fault with your clutch could point the diagnostic tool to this solenoid. Please review mechanical clutch components are in good working order before changing this valve.
