Restore your Porsche to its original glory with a new PDK 7-speed mechatronic valve body kit. This rebuilt replacement kit ensures that your Porsche Macan operates as intended, delivering smooth gear shifts and reliable performance just like when it rolled off the assembly line. This mechatronics kit is rebuilt to address common issues associated with wear and tear, ensuring smooth gear shifts and reliable performance. Whether you're experiencing slipping, rough shifting, or other transmission-related problems, this kit provides the necessary components to bring your Porsche back to peak operating condition.

The PDK 7-speed mechatronic valve body is used primarily in the Macan. MLR has rebuilt the valve body and restored the unit to its original specifications and performance standards.

Our rebuild process includes:

- Complete disassembly
- Thorough cleaning and inspection
- Testing of solenoids, valve body and internal circuitry
- Replacement of any damaged or out of specification components
- Replacement of all seals
- Reassembly of mechatronics unit
- Final testing of unit

A $450 core charge included in price. Refund is issued once the core is returned to our warehouse. For full refund used core has to be free of damage upon reception.

Please note that we do not include a new TCU as part of this mechatronics rebuild. We still need your TCU when completing the rebuild to test for functionality. We will provide instructions on how to remove the TCU once you have made your purchase so as to not damage it in transit.
